observer present. Asked to appeal this ruling. After talking with Mr. Kirkpatrick, I pointed out to that the whole wire-tapping bill was a very sensitive matter insofar as CIA was concerned in that it was purely an internal security matter from which we were barred by statute; that we had told the Committee we did not wish to testify on the bill because it was outside of our jurisdiction; and that therefore I do not wish to approach the Committee with a request to have a CIA man in their Executive Session.
